

Fourth Biennial Conference on Cetacean Conservation in South Mediterranean Countries

(CSMC4)

-----

Oran (Algeria), 11 - 13 November 2017

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT

Conference Objectives

The aim of the Biennial Conference is to assess the knowledge acquired on cetaceans in the South of the Mediterranean, identify potential gaps and stimulate the development of conservation actions in order to promote the implementation of the ACCOBAMS Agreement. Through its regular organisation, this Conference will allow cetacean specialists, active in the South of the Mediterranean, to exchange their experience and their data and to discuss the best approaches and priority actions for a better knowledge on cetacean populations in this region where data still remain sporadic and scarce. This Conference also aims at involving the student community and at rising awareness of future managers and stakeholders concerning marine issues.

The organisation of this Conference, under the auspice of ACCOBAMS, comes from a need expressed by the Scientific Community of South Mediterranean Countries.

Venue and Date

This is the First announcement for the Fourth Biennial Conference (CSMC4) that will take place in Oran (Algeria), from 11th to 13th November 2017.
